Stock Market Shows Improvement During the Week.

Affairs in Mexico-Judge Gary's View of Conditions-The Money Market-General Trade.

In some directions affairs took more favorable turn so far as outward appearances indicated the actual movement in money and business, but in for instance, made a sudden recovery from its continuous decline of a week or more, and on Tuesday prices rose sharply throughout the list, led by United States Steel and Canadian Pacific. The rise did not follow any specially favorable developments, but the of the week exhibited an easier tendency following the upturn, but the undertone remained fairly firm, and had it not been for some international developments the technical position of the market appeared to warrant higher

Currency legislation as reported from Washington assumed a line of progress more favorable to the welfare of the financial interests of the country directly, and in turn to trade and industrial prospects.

President Wilson, however, has not favored Mr. Vanderlip's plan, according to reports, and still clings to the general specifications of the Owens-Glass measure, insisting that that bill High and low prices on the New York Curb is good enough for him. The President does not object to certain amendments, so there is yet hope that by the time the measure has gone through the process of numerous revisions it will come out shorn of its impediments and tended. The cloud that now looms up most threateningly on the horizon is Mexico. Just how far the United States has become involved in its diplomatic relations with Mexico is a question which is interesting to the public at the present time. It may be assumed that the whole affair will be straightened out in the course of time, although in the interim the nerve centres of the country may be given a few shocks.

At the present time, however, the sit- Braden 6s. uation in Mexico has reached about its worst point. Industry has practically ceased, mines have been closed owing to their inability to obtain supplies, and agricultural pursuits are no longer in evidence. A summary of conditions appeared in the October issue of the 'Atlantic Monthly," written by a member of the staff of the "Mexican Herald." One paragraph is here published: "The truth is that Mexico's greatest misfortune is that she adopted a constitution unsuited to her needs and to the genius and character of her people. The instrument in question dates from the year 1857, when feeling ran high between Clericals and Liberals. The latter, having for the time the upper hand and admiring the greatness of the United States, but lacking a philosophical insight into the causes of that greatness, patterned the new Mexican constitution very largely on the Constitution of the United States, overlooking the fact that the Mexican people, of whom 80 per cent are still illiterate, could not be expected to make an intelligent use of a political system de-impossible, and the outlook for a speedy settlement of the trouble is not encouraging.

In his speech before the Steel and Iron Institute at Chicago on Friday Judge Gary touched on trade in general and the firm business trend in the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation. Differing from some men prominent in the industrial and rail-THE CURRENCY QUESTION road world, Judge Gary is an optimist, and views affairs with a crystailized judicial mind rather than the temperamental one of less conservative men. Judge Gary attributes the uncertainty in business affairs to unreasonable and uncalled for agitation and attack which has prevailed during the last few years. He believes that there is no need for such a stirring up of prejudice among the masses, and says that our greatly growing population can use our products, that laborers are willing to work at a reasonable wage, and employers are anxious to furnish work and pay liberal compensation. He makes a distinction between efforts to discourage oppression of the people and the demagogic attacks on capital and industry designed only to further personal vanity and prejudice.

The consensus of information or trade movements in the United States and abroad for the week shows a gradually diminishing volume of business in many lines, with little improvement in the more active commercial branches to inspire a feeling of confidence in the future. One of the bright spots in trade movements was a re large demand for shipping facilities and another report that carries with it considerable encouragement is from the Department of Commerce, which shows that this country's exports to Latin America in the calendar year of 1913 will approximate $335,000,000, against $123,000,000 in 1903 and $87,-000,000 in 1893. From 1893 to 1903 the growth was $36,000,000, while for the decade just ending there was an increase of $212,000,000.
